SYMBOLS

Standard notations are used throughout this publication, with meanings as follows:—

n.a.	Not available.
n.y.a.	Not yet available.
r	Revised.
p	Preliminary or subject to revision.
...	Nil, or less than half the final digit shown.

ROUNDING OF FIGURES

Where figures in this publication have been rounded, any discrepancies between the totals shown and the sums of the component items are due to rounding.

SYDNEY STATISTICAL DIVISION

The Sydney Statistical Division, as defined for general statistical purposes, is predominantly urban in character. Its boundary was specially delineated in 1966 to embrace the area expected to contain the urban development of Sydney (and its associated urban centres) during at least the next twenty years. The area within the Division is now (or is expected to be) socially and economically oriented, to a marked degree, towards Sydney.

STATISTICAL DISTRICTS

The Newcastle Statistical District (within the Hunter and Manning Statistical Division) and the Wollongong Statistical District (within the South Coast Division) are general-purpose statistical areas specially delineated in 1966. They are predominantly urban in character, and were delineated using the same concepts and criteria as for the Sydney Statistical Division (see above).

2. Wage and Salary Earners in Civilian Employment in N.S.W.: Government and Private

(Excluding Defence Forces and employees in agriculture and private domestic service)

Notes:—

1. A new series of monthly statistics of civilian wage and salary earners, based on benchmark data derived from the 1966 population census, was introduced in January, 1970. For periods since the 1966 census, the estimates have been derived from:
 - (a) monthly returns supplied by employers for purposes of Commonwealth pay-roll taxation;
 - (b) monthly returns from governmental authorities;
 - (c) some other direct records of monthly employment (e.g. hospitals); and
 - (d) estimates of changes in the number of employees outside the scope of the previous sources.
 Estimates for periods before June, 1966 are not available on the new basis.
2. Numbers of the full-time Defence Forces (including national servicemen), and (because of the inadequacy of available current data) employees in agriculture and private domestic service, are excluded from the scope of the series. Other elements of the total labour force excluded from the series are employers, self-employed persons, and unpaid helpers.
3. The series is designed to measure the current monthly trends in the defined fields. The estimates are compiled on an establishment or enterprise basis, and the benchmark data (which have been derived from industry tabulations compiled from population census schedules provided by individuals) have been adjusted as nearly as possible to an establishment basis.
4. The previous series of monthly employment statistics (based on benchmark data derived from the 1954 and 1961 population censuses) is not comparable with the new series because of the adoption of new labour force definitions for the 1966 population census and the introduction of improved methods of current estimation and changes in industry classification. The principal effect of the adoption of the new definitions was that more female part-time employees were included in the 1966 census benchmark data.

9. Population, Migration, Births, Deaths, and Marriages, New South Wales

- Notes:— 1. The estimates of the population for periods between the 1961 and 1966 censuses of population and since the 1966 census have been prepared by adding to the population ascertained at the previous census the subsequent natural increase and estimated net migration. The estimated net migration component has been based on statistics of overseas migration by State of residence and estimates of interstate transfers of residence, with no allowance for holiday, business, or other similar short-term movements interstate. The population estimates have been revised in the light of the final 1966 census results. Statistics of population and migration have been rounded to the nearest hundred.
2. Full-blood aborigines have been included in population estimates from 30th September, 1966, and in statistics of births and deaths from 1st January, 1967. (Marriages of aborigines are included in all periods.) Differences between population estimates including aborigines and those purporting to exclude them should not be taken as a reliable measure of the number of full-blood aborigines.

53. Export Price Index, Australia

Notes:—

1. The current Export Price Index is compiled as a weighted average of the relative price movements of 29 commodities, the weights being based on the exports (valued at 1959-60 prices) of the commodities in the five years 1956-57 to 1960-61. In these years, the selected commodities accounted for about 83 per cent. of the total value of Australian exports.
2. A comparable series of index numbers has been compiled by linking, at the year 1959-60, the "All Groups" Index in the current and previous Export Price Indexes. The index numbers (Base: 1959-60=100) for the years 1954-55 to 1958-59 are 114, 105, 117, 102, and 90 respectively.

54. Index of Prices of Shares on Sydney Stock Exchange

Note. This index relates to ordinary shares of the principal companies (excluding banking companies) listed on the Sydney Stock Exchange whose business in New South Wales is extensive. The prices of individual shares are unweighted, and each group average is the mean of the average monthly prices per $2 of paid-up capital. The aggregate index is the average of all the shares included in the groups with the addition of 34 miscellaneous shares. There is no base period as the index represents the ratio per cent. of the average prices of ordinary shares to their par values, adjustment being made for changes in capital structure.

56. Consumer Price Index

Note. The Consumer Price Index is designed to measure quarterly variations in the level of retail prices for goods and services which represent a high proportion of the expenditure of wage-earner households. The Index covers a large and representative selection of commodities and services arranged in five major groups—food, clothing and drapery, housing, household supplies and equipment, and a miscellaneous group. Significant changes in consumer expenditure patterns have been reflected in the Index by the introduction of additional items and altered weighting patterns.

Base of each Group Index: 1966-67 = 100.0

* Quarterly adjustments for movements in retail prices were discontinued in State awards from June, 1964.

† The minimum wage payable to adult males under certain Commonwealth awards was fixed at $37.25 from July, 1966, $38.25 from July, 1967, $39.60 from October, 1968, and $43.10 from December, 1969.

‡ In addition, an "economic loading" of $1 per week was payable to all adult males and females under State awards. From 1st January, 1968 this loading was absorbed into the basic wage.

†† From July, 1967, the separate specification of the basic wage, margin, and other elements of award wage rates in Commonwealth awards was discontinued. The total wage (i.e. basic wage plus margin elements) for each award classification for adult males and females was increased from the beginning of the first pay-period commencing on or after 1st July, 1967 by $1 per week, by a further $1.35 from the beginning of the first pay-period commencing on or after 25th October, 1968, and by 3 per cent. from the beginning of the first pay-period commencing on or after 19th December, 1969.

58. Weekly Wage Rates, Adult Employees, N.S.W.

(Weighted Average Minimum Weekly Wage Rates)

Note. The wage rates used in the series embrace a representative range of occupations, and are based on the occupation and industry structures in 1954. The wage rates used are the minimum rates payable—i.e., the lowest rate payable for a particular occupation as prescribed in a representative award, determination, or agreement—for a full week's work, excluding overtime. (The term "minimum wage" has been used by the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Commission since July, 1966 in a different sense—see Note †, Table 57.) The rural industries are excluded from the scope of the series. Figures for all periods from 1st July, 1968 are preliminary.
